Registrar Corp Looking for New Hires in Hampton

Hampton, VA -- Registrar Corp, a consulting company specializing in U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations, continues to grow. The firm currently employs around 75 people at their office in Hampton. Registrar Corp will hire approximately 20 new seasonal employees to assist with an annual uptick in fourth quarter business.

The company was founded in 2003 to assist businesses in complying with U.S. Food and Drug Administration (U.S. FDA) regulations. Since opening its headquarters in Hampton, Registrar Corp has expanded to seventeen international offices and has aided more than 20,000 companies across 160 countries.

Registrar Corp co-founder, David Lennarz, explains the company chose Hampton as the city for their headquarters for a number of reasons. Mr. Lennarz states, "Hampton was the ideal choice for our FDA consulting business because of the central location on the Peninsula, and access to a diverse and multi-lingual work force."

The central location also allows the firm to draw employees from Gloucester, Williamsburg, Virginia Beach, Chesapeake, Portsmouth, Newport News, and of course from Hampton. The proximity to the military bases allows the firm to easily source a multi-lingual work force.

Registrar Corp employees include former U.S. FDA officials, scientists, industry experts and other dedicated individuals. Registrar Corp employees have given the company a 5-star rating on glassdoor.com. They see Registrar Corp as a good place to work in Hampton, Va.
